Brief Sketches of Their Lives, Which Should Be An Inspiration to All; Opportunities In Portsmouth for the Hard-working, Conscientious Young Man Just As Good As Anywhere Else In The World

When Stanley McCall came home from college in 1911 to spend the fourth of July with his folks he fully intended to take up the practice of law in Chicago but local friends interested him in politics and elected him City Solicitor in the fall of that same year, so he stayed in Portsmouth.

On October 22nd, 1898, Hugh Stanley McCall was born in South Webster, Ohio, the son of Dr. and Mrs. E. O. McCall now of this city. Later the father took up the practice of medicine in the village of Centerville in Gallia county, Ohio, and there the son received his common school education. Both Dr. McCall and his wife, Josephine Brady McCall had been teachers in the public schools of Scioto county, and it was natural that they should expect their son to qualify also as a teacher. An aunt who had taught school told her nephew that whenever he passed the teachers' examination, she would give him a gold watch. At the age of 12, Stanley McCall passed the teachers' examination in Gallia county, and his aunt promptly presented to him the gold watch, which is today one of his most prized possessions. The following year, he was equally successful in Jackson county.

In 1902, Dr. McCall moved to Portsmouth and his son entered the high school, graduating in three years. During the following three years he was successively a clothing salesman, bookkeeper and purchasing agent in a shoe factory. From these employments, he saved sufficient funds to put himself through college, and in the fall of 1908, entered the law department of the University of Michigan.

In the law school, he was an associate editor of the Michigan Law Review, member of the Barriesters and one of the seven charter members of the Order of the Coif at the University of Michigan. Upon his graduation, in 1911, Dean Bates of the Law Department secured for him a place in the office of a large law firm in Chicago. Mr. McCall had been admitted to practice in Ohio and Michigan, and came home to Portsmouth to spend the fourth of July before seeking admission to the bar in Illinois.

Local friends interested him in politics, and he became a candidate for City Solicitor of Portsmouth, and was elected to that office in the fall of 1911 and re-elected in 1913. Upon leaving this office, he was solicitor of the villages of New Boston and Sciotoville. In 1917, he went to Columbus as Assistant Attorney General to Joseph McGhee, and was later special counsel in this department. In the fall of 1918, he entered the field artillery officers' training school at Camp Taylor and was mustered out from there shortly after the armistice was signed, returning to service in the Attorney General's office. In 1919 he was admitted to practice in the U. S. District Court.

After Attorney General McGhee left office, Mr. McCall became legal adviser in the legislative reference department in Columbus. He resigned this position in the spring of 1919, and opened a law office in Dayton with Walter L. Connors, formerly Assistant Attorney General of Ohio, and practiced there for two years. Returning to Portsmouth, in 1921, he was elected Municipal Judge here in the same year, and held that office until January 1st 1924. He is now associated with Judge George M. Osborn in the practice of law in the First National Bank Building.

Mr. McCall is a member of the Scioto County Bar Association, the Ohio State Bar Association, the American Legion, Elks, Eagles and the Portsmouth Country Club.

As Assistant Attorney General of Ohio, Mr. McCall tried cases in many of the county seats of the state, and in his opinion, Portsmouth is far ahead of other Ohio cities of similar size.

Lenroot Resigns As Head Of Committee Holding Oil Probe

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 11.—(By the United Press)—Senator Lenroot, Wisconsin, today resigned as chairman of the senate public lands committee which has been investigating the naval oil reserve scandal. In a statement issued late today Lenroot said the reason he was resigning was his ill health and his inability to continue at work.

Senator Ladd, North Dakota, is ranking Republican on the committee and therefore in line for the chairmanship to succeed Lenroot. Ladd has been presiding over the committee session since Lenroot went south.

"I hope to be able to return to Washington next week, but shall not attempt to do anything but routine work, until my health is restored," Lenroot said today.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Under pressure of a hard-hitting cross examination, John F. Major, confidential man to Edward B. McLean, explained to the oil committee, today some more of the mysteries of the McLean telegrams.

One of those referred to without name in the message he said, was C. Bussom Sloop with whom he declared he had returned from Florida and upon whom he had called several times since Mr. Sloop's invitation. He insisted the calls were "purely social." The code word "eyed," the witness explained as referring to E. S. Rochester, attached to the office of Attorney General Daugherty. The said Rochester on one occasion had asked him to come to the participant and had indicated that "something might be expected soon but he was hazy as to details."

The mysterious "Willis" referred to in the telegrams as looking after McLean's interests, finally was identified by Major as Wilton J. Lambert, the publisher's attorney. Asked later why the "Willis" and "Lambert" had appeared in the same telegram the witness replied there was no explanation.

At another point in the telegraphic exchange, Major declared "the party" referred to Bernard M. Baruch, of New York. He said he had talked to Baruch about McLean's situation and the former had declared it was too late.

Toward the end of his questioning the witness protested against the form of queries put to him and finally said his employer had been wronged by the general belief that he did not want to come before the committee and testify.

"Absolutely none," he said when asked if McLean had any objection to his testifying before the committee. "Mr. McLean has gone as far as he could for a friend," he said as he was excused, "and all for nothing." No other witnesses were heard at today's session, but the committee held a meeting behind closed doors at which it examined the telegraph records submitted.

HOUSE ACCEPTS FORD MUSCLE SHOALS OFFER; GOES TO SENATE

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 11.—(By the Associated Press)—The McKenzie bill was in the hands of the senate today where it is expected to undergo a searching scrutiny by the agriculture committee.

The measure was passed by the house yesterday by a vote of 237 to 124, after a week of stormy debate, but how soon it will be taken up in senate committee has not been determined. Chairman Norris already has declined opposition to the Ford offer and other members of the committee also have criticized terms of the proposed lease.

As passed by the house the measure is practically in the same form in which it was reported by the military committee, only a few minor amendments having been adopted. All other legislative business was sidetracked during the week's debate on the offer, which was made two years ago, but the house today was prepared to resume with its program of appropriation and other bills.

Offers to Go to Electric Chair In Place of Convicted Man

HARRISBURG, PA., March 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Offering to go to the electric chair in place of Joseph Trinkle, convicted of murder, Walter J. Kirkwood, 50, of Philadelphia, wrote to Governor Pinchot that Trinkle should be given ten to fifteen years in prison, "for when he has served his time he still would be young enough to be of much use." The governor referred the odd request to the board of pardons which informed Kirkwood that there is no law in this state that will permit the substitution of an innocent volunteer to take the place of a convicted criminal.

In making his request, Kirkwood stated he was broken in health, and did not hold down a real job, and did not see that he would be of any more use on earth whatever. His motive, he explained, was to "startle humanity to a keen realization" of what capital punishment means. He offered to pay his own car fare to the place of execution.

"Name Your Poison" Then They Got It

PITTSBURGH, March 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Patrons of a soda fountain here when asked to name "your poison" had three choices, according to police, who raided the place.

From one of three spigots flowed white moonshine whiskey, from the second came colored moonshine whiskey, and from the third poured gin.

Three copper tanks on the floor above the soda fountain were connected by pipes to the spigots, and were waiting trial on a liquor law violation charge.

Prospective Fiances Galore

The way to the altar has been made easy for Helen Heckman, Muskegon (Okla.) dancer. Two years ago she carried off honors in a national beauty contest. Since then a steady stream of love epistles has been arriving at the home of the "most-proposed-to girl in Oklahoma." A young ranchman encloses an amorous poem he made up as he milked his cows. A struggling musician encloses a sheet of a song he composed in her honor. A man, of 60, feels like a "young fellow" again when he writes her. Even clergymen seek her hand. But Miss Heckman, regarded as one of the prettiest young women in America, declares wedding bells are not going to ring for her. She's married to her career, she says.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 11.—(By the Associated Press)—President Coolidge today sent a special message to congress recommending a reduction of 25 per cent on income taxes for 1923 be authorized before March 15.

78 BODIES TAKEN FROM CASTLE GATE COAL MINE

CASTLE GATE, UTAH, March 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Seventy-eight bodies have been recovered by the Utah Fuel Company mine.

CASTLE GATE, UTAH, March 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Sixty-six bodies of coal miners have been removed early today from Mine Number Two of the Utah Fuel Company in which 172 men were entombed Saturday by a series of explosions. One hundred and seven men known still to be in the mine, were sought by numerous rescue crews.

Preparations will be made by the company construction forces to install horse-drawn trans-ers today to expedite removal of the bodies, all of which are expected to be recovered before night. "The work was slow yesterday because many bodies were found a mile and a half inside the mine and all were covered by stretched boards." An augmented staff of undertakers worked all night in the temporary morgue. An express car filled with coffins arrived last night and a large force of men carried them to the morgue through long lanes of crying women and children who braved the cold night blasts that swept through the canyon. Castle Gate yesterday, for the first time since the disaster which struck nearly every home, allowed itself to give way to emotions. Grief-stricken women, orphaned children, and men hardened by years of toil in the mines appeared on the one main street of the village. With the approach of every conveyance carrying bodies, the streets filled rapidly and crowds pressed to the morgue. During the afternoon every available truck, mail wagon and automobile was used for transporting the bodies.

The weather last night suddenly changed and chilling blasts and a high wind swept through the canyon, so that Castle Gate nestles. Snow left a covering of white over the adjacent mountains.

At the company cemetery within the confines of the area of Mine Number Two, a force of 70 men last night worked under, are lights to prepare graves for the burials which will start today.

COLUMBUS, O., March 11.—(By the Associated Press)—A sixty day stay of execution was granted William G. Benham and Dwight L. Harrison, president and vice president, respectively, of the R. L. Dollins Company, of Ohio, in which to file appeal following their conviction yesterday in preliminary proceedings in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., and a fine of $5,000 each. Harrison and Benham were convicted of using the mails to defraud in connection with stock sales of the company.

Von Kahr On Stand

MUNICH, March 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Dr. Von Kahr, former Bavarian dictator, was called to the stand today in the trial of General Ludendorff, Adolf Hitler and others charged with treason in connection with last November's putsch.

Von Kahr testified without taking oath. The presiding judge explained this procedure as due to indications that Von Kahr had participated in preliminary meetings which led up to the attempted rising.

Von Kahr began his testimony by describing his activities as state commissioner in support of last year and his belief that the German states should cling together so as to hold the Reich and the Fatherland.

Addis and judgment is sought for the sum of $365.19 with interest from July 31, 1921, and R. G. Holbrook is defendant in the other suit brought to recover on a claim of $176.00 with interest from July 27, 1921.

Appellate Court Has Slim Docket
An exceedingly "light" docket greeted Judges William H. Middleton, Edwin D. Sayre and Roscoe J. Mauck when they mounted the bench at the Courthouse Tuesday morning to hold the regular March term of the district court of appeals, and as a consequence the court finished its work here for the present early in the day and adjourned.

Two cases were submitted, both error proceedings, the first being a civil action wherein The Portsmouth Street Railway and Light company is plaintiff in error, and Mary See is defendant in error. Attorneys McLaughlin and Staker and Miller and Searl. The other case was that of William H. West, Cleveland showman, plaintiff in error, against State of Ohio, defendant in error, through which West is prosecuting error through Attorney Mark Crawford from his conviction by a Common Pleas court jury and sentence to the penitentiary on a charge of procuring signatures to a promissory note under false pretenses. The court heard the latter case after a recess. S. Anslem Skelton for the state, waived service of summons and filing of briefs out of rule.

The court also holds arguments of counsel in support and against a motion and a demurrer offered by plaintiff in the appeal case of Barbara Dages against James E. Hannan and Attorney R. Voss; an action brought seeking to cancel a deed to a house and lot situated on Thirteenth street, involved in a real estate deal between the parties in 1920. Attorney T. C. Anderson and George W. Sheppard appeared for plaintiff and Attorneys Miller and Searl. Briefs taken, an argument of the court indicated that it will return here about the middle of May to hear a couple of cases which were prevented from being heard at this time because of incomplete record.

Plaintiff in her petition filed through Attorney B. F. Kimble, says that Lengner constantly drinks intoxicating liquor and becomes drunk, humiliates her by unbecoming conduct. Besides, she complains he has failed and refused to support his family and accuses him of associating with immoral women.

Daughterly Still Baffles Capital

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 11.—(By the Associated Press)—With Attorney General Daugherty's cabinet status entering the mystery classification due to lack of surface development since his return from Florida, Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, in his role of "prosecutor" plunged into final preparations today for opening of the senate investigation of his administration.

Knowledge that various eligibles have been rounded out as to their willingness to accept appointment as attorney general has deepened the opinion of many administration leaders that Mr. Daugherty's retirement is imminent, but they are at a loss to explain the persistence of the calm that overspread that phase of the situation in his unexpected return from Miami.

The investigating committee, meanwhile, is planning to open the inquiry Tuesday with consideration of charges involving the Cantu revolution in Lower California in 1921.

Praises Effort to Feed Germans

CLEVELAND, O., March 11.—(By the Associated Press)—America's effort to feed the starving children of Germany is a far better peace plan than that which won the Bok peace prize, in the opinion of Rev. John W. Herring, Terre Haute, who addressed the Cleveland Ministers' Union on behalf of the American committee for relief of German children.

"This is a revolt against war among the people of all countries of Europe," Rev. Herring said. "They are trying to escape from the hatreds. Our gifts will help show them the way out. Switzerland and other neutral European countries, as well as France, Austria and England, are making large contributions."

"While 22,000,000 are starving and 20,000,000 more are undernourished, the American relief committee is asking funds to buy food for only 2,300,000 children who are facing death from starvation."

Waves of Migration Annoy Farmers

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Almost a fifth of the country's farms had new occupants in 1922. Nine southern states showed changes in more than a quarter of their farms, the department of agriculture announced today after a survey of the situation, and only six states, all in New England, showed less than ten per cent change in their farm occupants. In most of the corn belt and western states, changes ranged from ten to fifteen per cent.

The chief cause is believed by agricultural experts to be the attractiveness of new land, which, in the past, has set up waves of migration among the farm population. Another cause is seen in the extent to which farm land has been bought and sold for investment and speculation. In addition, the rapid industrialization of the United States, besides producing a steady movement of population to the cities, brings about constant changes in market opportunities and necessitates readjustments in systems of farming and in sizes of farms.

The great quality of the American economic and social life, the experts say, also tends to create conditions which make for shifting.

At Sheffield, Florence, Decatur and Huntsville, and other points citizens gathered for celebrations. Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Why don't he quit and go with some other girl, as I have no strings on him?"

There is no law whereby you can make a man like you, and there is no set of rules to govern love-making. That is an individual thing that every one has to decide for themselves. However if a young man likes to be with a girl, calls on her frequently and takes her places, she has every reason to think that he cares for her. If he goes with other girls, too, it is probable that he does not love her. The only way to feel sure is when he proposes. In your case, that worry about the love-making part of your courtship. That will come later.

Dear Dolly—I am a popular young girl of 20, and there is a man of 50 trying to win all his heart and main to go with me. In fact he has gone so far as to talk about marriage. Dolly, people tell me when these old buns start going with a girl they mean business, and that the older they get, the younger they get—in their own estimation or imagination. Now, Dolly, this man has lots of dough, and is well fixed and he could give me a good home and he says he will give me anything and everything I want if I will promise to marry him. Do you think I could be happy with him? Dolly, I would marry him if he would leave me the money and let me cut loose with my young friends, but I could never sit in the corner and look at an old grandpa the rest of my young life. Perish the thought! What shall I do, ditch him, or coax him along and show him a good time, until I get all his money and then put the kids under him. I don't want to be an old man's darling. I am willing to

Constipation makes bright children dull— give them relief with Kellogg's Bran

Constipation dulls the youthful mind—makes children backward in their studies—makes them listless—and can lead to serious disease. Constipation is a dangerous disease.

You cannot afford to take chances in getting relief. You cannot afford to experiment or put off. Kellogg's Bran brings relief—permanent relief if eaten regularly. Even in the most chronic cases of constipation it is guaranteed to bring results. If it fails, your grocer will return your money.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbed, has brought relief to thousands because it is ALL bran. Remember, only ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. That is why Kellogg's Bran is recommended by doctors. It keeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It causes regular, healthy, normal action. For it works as nature works. It is ALL bran.

Have your children eat it regularly—two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the wonderful recipes on every package.

The flavor is delicious—a crisp, nutlike flavor that delights the taste. Different by far from ordinary bran, which is unpalatable.

Begin serving Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbed, to your children today. Eat it yourself. The leading hotels and clubs serve it. Made in Battle Creek. It is sold by all grocers.

The Carnival, which was given recently by the four grades of the Schoolville High school for the purpose of making their 1924 Annual Money, was a grand social and financial success. The hall was artistically decorated, imitating closely the bazaar streets of the Orient. Many attractively decorated booths lined the sides of the gym, each class being in charge of a booth. A levy of attractive young models sold refreshments of candy which they made in the Home Economics kitchen. Sixteen girls in a clever booth of tea and snow sold Esquimo footbals and ice cream. The Sophomore classes decorated their shop in keeping with St. Patrick's Day. The Senior girls furnished the off-fashionsed fish-pond and the colorful booth of flowers. Refreshment boys sold lemonade. Entertainment boys sold the radio was another enjoyable feature of the occasion, while one of the most popular places of the evening was Miss Frances Mitchell's fortune-telling booth.

The mothers of the pupils of the High School sold baked goods, and the High School Orchestra furnished delightful music throughout the evening. At 8:30 o'clock Irene Stone, Alberta Ward and Donald Elwell and Miss Nina Baker gave an interesting program of songs, dancing and readings. Following these clever young artists the English classes of the High School put on a "stunt" show in the study hall. About 250 people crowded into the hall for this "last second" show. Miss Bernice Stewart of the Sophomore Class was elected as the most popular girl in the High School and was given an angel food cake baked by Mrs. H. C. Moore.

Much credit is due the boys who helped decorate the gym, especially Aulus O'Dell, who was the chairman of the Carnival. Miss Mildred Mason, who worked with her Home Economics Classes, deserves much credit for her untiring efforts, and without the constant working, planning and supervision of Miss Caroline Spence, the faculty manager, the Carnival could not have been the splendid success that it proved to be.

Keep Prettier Teeth

When your dentist brings them to you

After a dental cleaning, you marvel at the pearliness of your teeth. Yet the dentist just removes the dingy film and tartar.

Learn what it means to daily combat that film. To keep teeth whiter, cleaner, safer all the time. This free test shows the method which millions now employ.

Film is the problem

Film is the great tooth enemy—that viscous film you feel on teeth clings and stays, despite the old-way brushing.

Food stains, etc., discolor the film, then it forms dingy coats. Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Brush teeth daily in the old ways, yet these film-caused troubles, as you know, come to nearly all.

Protect the Enamel

Pepsodent disintegrates the film, then removes it with an agent far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

That is why dental science sought for film combatants, not to be found. One disinfects the film at all stages of formation. One removes it without harmful scouring.

Able authorities have proved these methods effective. A new type tooth paste has been created to apply them daily. The name is Pepsodent.

No possible doubt

Pepsodent leaves no possible doubt. It does other things which research proves essential. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, also its starch digestant. Thus it gives increased power to the tooth-protecting factors in the mouth.

SOCIAL NEWS

One of the charming events in the younger social circles was the surprise birthday party given on Monday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Hughes at their lovely home, 1658 Fifth street, in honor of the sixteenth birthday anniversary of their only son, Douglas Hughes, a popular young High School student.

The rooms were attractively arranged for the happy event, with groupings of spring flowers, and the young folks made merry in dancing, singing and various games. Delicious punch was served throughout the evening, at the close of which a beautifully appointed ice course was served to the following young folks: Misses Katherine Shriver, Gretchen Schirman, Charlotte Knost, Nancy Grimes, Pauline Robinson, Eliza Jane Rice, Virginia Robinson, Madeline Miller, Louise Bush, Virginia Donaldson, Mary Margaret Tener, Helen Hopkins and Helen Tely.

Herbert Rice, Henry Mauph, Lamar Shires, Lawrence Kimble, Wayne Brady, Charles Dixon, Raymond Zubars, Everett Hayes, Gordon White, Fred Morrow and Douglas Hughes.

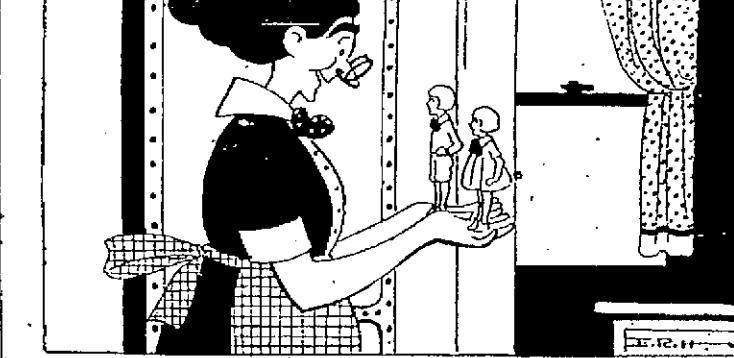

The honor guest was presented with a beautiful gold ring and gold pencil by the guests present, which, needless to say, was very much appreciated.

Group 10 of Trinity Ladies' Aid Society will hold a rummage sale in the Eleventh street school house on March 19th, beginning at 9 a. m.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

THE TWINS MAKE A VISIT

With that she picked up a Twin in each hand

"And now," said the Beantalk king kindly to the Twins, "how can we reward you for finding our lost treasure? We had only enough money left to keep us for 99 days, but now we will live in peace and comfort all the rest of our lives."

I know what I should like, thank you," said Nick quickly. "I'd like to see the house where Jack's giant lived."

"So should I," cried Nancy. "And his wife, and the oven where she hid Jack, and the chair the giant sat in, and the table he pounded on, and the door he came through when he said 'Be it, fo, fum!'"

"Your wish shall be granted," declared the Beantalk king. The cat shall take you there, Come, Dandy, and remember, no drains this time or you shall do without your herring for a week!"

Dandy promised to be good, and lay down while the Twins crawled up on his silky soft back; then calling goodly to their friends, the three started down the road to the giant's house.

Mrs. Giant was out weeding her garden when she beheld the Twins riding in at the gate.

"Lands save us!" cried she. "There are two more of those children! Exactly the size of the little boy who came to Beantalk Land and stole my husband's harp and magic horn, and then cut down the Beantalk! How do you do?" she said politely, as the Twins came near.

"Very well, thank you," cried Nancy and Nick sliding down off Dandy's back. "Are you the giant's wife?"

Mrs. Giant laughed. "Which

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES — THE FRIENDLY HERMIT

And there probably would have been a real fight between the bear, fox, porcupine and Flip if the old hermit hadn't grabbed Flip and held him. "These animals won't hurt you," laughed the hermit. "They are pets of mine. Call your dog and I'll send them all away." So Jack told Flip to lie down.

When the faithful dog realized that his master was in no danger he quieted down. Then the hermit explained that he had made friends with all the animals in the woods. "Just be kind to them and they will never bother you," he said. Then he sent the three animals back to the dense woods. (Continued.)

Have you noticed how much lace and how many Mother of Pearl buttons are used on the afternoon frocks for Spring?

Glass buttons, too, are seen in great profusion. Beads are being used lavishly on georgettes for formal wear.

After season after season of navy brown and black, the new silk frocks of Poudre blue, Orient, apple green, Chiang and bright red are very restful to the eye. For this surely is a season of color. Beautiful printed crepe in floral and Mah Jongg designs add to the gaiety of the season. I understand that foulards in black and navy and white patterns will be popular soon.

Honestly, the Fashion's assemblage of hundreds of new Spring frocks is a pleasure to look through. The only difficulty is that it is so hard to decide which is the prettiest. Come in and see them. The salespeople will be delighted to show them to you.

Colonel Holmes, soldier and adventurer, returns to England, his native land when war with Holland is declared. It is dangerous for Holmes to secure a commission in the English army because the name of Randal Holmes, father of the colonel, appears on the warrant for the execution of the late king.

His Grace of Buckingham hires Holmes to abduct the actress, Sylvia Farquharson. It is dark when the colonel carries her off and, when he arrives at the house, Buckingham has retired. Holmes is horror-stricken when he sees that Sylvia is an old sweet-heart. When the duke arrives upon the scene the two men engage in a duel. Buckingham calls for his servants and they attack the colonel, who is knocked unconscious. Sylvia is a horrified spectator.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
Yet, at the sound of the duke's voice gently addressing her, she opened her long blue eyes, set now in deep stains of suffering, and looked at this handsome man who stood before her in an attitude of deference that was in itself a mockery.

"Dear Sylvia," he was saying, "I am beyond measure pained that you should have been subjected to this. . . this unspeakable spectacle. I do not protest that it was no part of my intention."

"She answered him almost mechanically, yet the ironical answer she delivered was true to her proud nature and the histrionic art which would not be denied expression even in the extremity to which she was reduced. "That, sir, I can well believe."

does them; it will be your word against mine. And the word of an actress, however exalted, is . . . in such matters . . . the word of an actress." He smiled upon her. "Then this house, it is not mine. It is tenanted by a ruffian named Holmes; it was taken by him a few days ago in his own name. It was he who brought you here by force. Well, well, if there must be a scapegoat, perhaps he will do as well as another. And anyhow, he is overdue for the gallows on quite other crimes. He brought you here by force. So far we shall not contradict each other. What follows? How came I here into that man's house? Why, to rescue you, of course, and I stayed to protect you in your natural distress. The facts will prove my story. My groans will swear to it. It will then be seen that in charging me you are a scheming adventurer returning evil for good, seeking to profit by my unwary generosity. You smile? You think the reputation bestowed upon me by a scandalous, untrue, and untrue story will suffice to give me the lie? I am not of your opinion; and, why, I am prepared to take the risk. Oh, I would take greater risks for you, my dear."

She shook before him in sheer terror. Then, comparing herself, stilling in every limb, she drew herself erect. Madly, a very queen of tragedy, she flung out an arm in a gesture of command.

"He found her magnificent, in the pose of her graceful body, the ivory pout of her face, the eyes that glowed and burned and looked the larger for the deep, dark shadows in which they were now set. Suddenly, with an almost imperceptible cry, he sprang forward to seize her."

She slipped aside and away in panic before his furious onslaught, uttering the high-backed chair in which she had lately been sitting.

The crash of his fall seemed to penetrate to the trembling mind of Holmes, and disturb his unconsciousness. For he stirred a little, uttering a faint moan.

And then, however, her flight accomplished nothing. Two yards away the woman stood firm. She would have run round the table, but before she could turn to do so, the duke had seized her.

Helpless in his arms she lay. . . .

Over that white throat he now bent his head like some evil vampire. But his fevered lips never reached it. In the very act of bending, he paused, and stiffened.

Behind him he could hear the fast, . . . of his . . . retreating But it was not their coming that he feared. He feared the sound of his own heart, which he had just heard beating so fast and so wildly.

For a moment he was as a man His hands refused their office; they seemed turned to lead. . . . where he would have his swift, his eyes relaxed their . . . of that sweet body. Slowly the themselves, and slowly he back before him, crouching the white, staring eyes, his his face the face of a man in the last extremity of terror.

Suddenly he raised his right hand to point with a shaking finger at her Holmes, in a shocked way,

"The tokens!"

"The tokens?"

"The tokens?"

Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound First. Proved Good Advice

Chicago, Illinois. "Just a few lines to let you know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I was married going on for three years, and went to a doctor and was taking treatments twice a week for pains every month. I used to be in bed for a week or more with them and the doctor would call and inject something into my arm to put me asleep so I would not feel the pains. At last she said I would have to be operated on if I wanted any children. Well, I just happened to see a friend with her first baby and I told her I was going to the hospital, and she said, 'Don't do it! You go and get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you won't need any operation.' So my husband got me a bottle right away. Now I have two lovely children. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to every woman. It has helped me and a lot of my friends."

Let the Kiddies Romp Outdoors In All Weathers

There is Nothing Like Fresh Air Play to Build Sturdy Bodies. If Colds Come Treat Externally

Children should play outdoors daily in winter as well as in summer. To keep them indoors so much is a mistake. For healthy growth they need and must have lots of outdoor exercise.

Of course, some colds will come as a result of exposure. But constant internal dosing must not be thought of. Vicks answers the need. It is externally applied and can be used frequently without upsetting the digestion.

When rubbed on over throat and chest Vicks acts externally like a liniment or plaster. At the same time the ingredients, vaporized by the body heat, are inhaled directly into the affected parts.

Vicks is the ideal treatment for children's cold troubles.

"DO NOT TOUCH ME. I HAVE THE PLAGUE."

A moment still they stood at gaze with him. They craned forward, to look at Miss Farquharson, leaning faint and limp against the wainscot, her white neck and shoulders thrown into dazzling relief against the dark in this horror which they fully shared. . . .

CHAPTER XXI
Under the Red Cross.

Colonel Holmes and the woman he had sought so passionately long years ago, until despair had turned him from the quest, were alone together at last in that house, brought thither by that ironic destiny of his, incircumstances of horror piled on horror.

Painfully he got to his knees, and with dazed eyes looked round the room. Again he brushed back the tangle of his hair, his brow, and thereafter, daily considered his hand which was wet and smeared with blood. Understanding of where he was and how he had come there grew clear at last. He rose to his feet, and stood swaying a moment, looking round, dull-eyed as a drunkard.

He beheld Nancy, her shoulders turned to him, contemplating herself in an oblong Venetian mirror that adorned the wall beyond the table, and in the mirror itself he beheld the reflection of her face. It was ashen, and there was a staring, ghastly horror in her eyes.

She recoiled back, and knew, without power to help herself, that she was falling, when suddenly she fell herself caught, and supported. The looked up, and beheld the ghastly, blood-smeared face of Randal Holmes, who had sprung into the room to her assistance.

He stared at him, dull-eyed, a little frown of effort drawing her brows together. Only then she spoke: "Do not touch me. Did you hear? I have the plague."

"Yes . . . I heard," he answered. "You will take the infection," she warned him.

"It is very likely," said he, "but no great matter."

On that he lifted her in his arms, as he had lifted her once before that night. Despite his shaken condition, the act cost him but little effort, for she was very slim and light. . . .

Then he passed round the couch to the shattered windows, unbarred them, and set the casement wide to let a draught of the clean, cool night into the stifling room.

The cool air revived her a little, set her pulses beating more steadily, and cleared her mind of some of the numbness that had been settling upon it. . . . (Continued in Our Next Issue.)

POLICE NEWS

Ted Conley, 18, and James Roe, 20, young men hailing from Vanceburg, were fined $100, and costs each, by Judge Sprague in Municipal court Monday after they pleaded guilty to possession of liquor.

The young men, who are employed at the Solvay plant, came to grief Saturday night when they were caught by Patrolman Dud Templeman in the rear of the Marting Bros. store with a quart jar partly filled with "white mule."

Conley admitted ownership of the liquor which he claimed to have bought from a strange white man in the North End a short time before his arrest.

William Erwin, 25, was penalized $100, and costs when he admitted under a complaint charging possession of liquor. He was arrested by Officer Brown.

Erwin was given another chance by the court after Attorney Stanley McCall urged leniency for the accused when he pointed out that Erwin is a poor man and recently lost his home at 2048 Fifth street by fire.

Paul "Shubie" Meyers paid a fine of $500 and costs, yesterday, which was assessed against him several days ago in Municipal court. Meyers, when fined on a liquor charge, pleaded for time, and was told he might have until Friday to pay, being released on bond.

When he failed to put in an appearance Friday, Chief of Police Rinehart dispatched Sgt. Dan Miller to arrest him. Meyers, when brought in, paid up and was released.

In Municipal court Monday J. Campbell and Lindsey Traylor, picked up by the police for intoxication, were let off easy by Judge Sprague who taxed them $11.20 each, on their promise to refrain from further indulgence in the "cup that cheers."

Pearl Knight, 26, was fined $25, and costs and Pearl Smith, 18, was fined $10, and costs, for disorderly conduct. The women, both colored, were arrested Sunday morning by Officer Dan Miller in a house at Fifteenth and Waller streets where they staged a fight.

The complaint in the case of Fred Venley, charged with assault, was withdrawn by consent of the court upon payment of the costs. The charge grew out of some trouble between Venley and his wife.

DOCTORS DIDN'T HELP HER SICKLY CHILD

Is strong and healthy now. Mother says Milk's Emulsion Saved its life.

"Last May my three-year-old baby was taken very ill, got so bad that we expected her to die at any time. Had four doctors but they did not know what ailed her and finally stopped coming. She had been sick about 5 months when I started giving her Milk's Emulsion. I noticed results from the first and by the time she had taken 2 bottles she was absolutely strong and healthy. I am thankful to say Milk's Emulsion saved her life."

For restoring appetite, health and strength in sickly children, mothers will find Milk's Emulsion the thing they have always sought. Most children like to take it, because unlike many emulsions and tonics, it really tastes good. Milk's Emulsion restores healthy, natural bowel action; it is a truly corrective medicine, doing away with all need of pills and physics. Milk's Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whose children have weakened; it is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved.

"This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream."

Spring Gold and Rainy, Says

Cheatwood, Predicts Big Fruit Crop

Have you been anticipating an early, balm spring? Well, according to David Cheatwood, goosebore weather prophet (and a darn good one too) you will be disappointed. He says real spring weather will not prevail until after Easter and that March will be cold, snowy and rainy. However, Cheatwood says there will be an abundance of fruit this spring as when warm weather arrives it will come to stay and that the fruit crops should be the most beautiful in years.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The death of Lopez Gutierrez, de facto president of Honduras, was reported to the state department today in a telegram from Tegucigalpa.

The message said that Gutierrez died at 10:30 a. m. yesterday, but did not give the cause of death. A 72 hour armistice has been arranged among the factions in the three-cornered revolution.

President Gutierrez left the capital some days ago when a revolutionary attack appeared imminent. He went to Amapala for refuge, but today's message did not indicate where his death occurred.

A message from Consul Walter A. Ceiba said that town was occupied March 9 by 2,000 revolutionists, but that 500 government troops are occupying the fort there.

During the night there was a sharp shooting and the fighting had become severe at the hour of telegraph. (March 10) said a state department announcement.

JUDGE WILBUR ADMITS HE'S CONSIDERED FOR APPOINTMENT TO COOLIDGE CABINET

LOS ANGELES, March 11. — (By The A. P.)—Chief Justice Curtis Wilbur of the California Supreme Court, passing through Los Angeles tonight enroute to San Francisco, admitted that the matter of a cabinet position for him had been discussed in a conference with President Coolidge at the White House last week, according to the Los Angeles Times.

Judge Wilbur in his brief interval here between trains, declined to affirm or deny reports that the secretaryship of the navy had been offered him.

When asked, however, if he would refuse to serve as Edwin Denby's successor in the cabinet post vacated by the latter today, he said:

"I was trained to serve my country. If the opportunity should be offered me to serve in the cabinet, I most certainly should have to accept."

With respect to the probability of his being named as attorney general to succeed Mr. Daugherty, Justice Wilbur was likewise non-committal.

"While it is true that the subject of a cabinet position was discussed by the president and myself," he is quoted by the Times as asserting, "I cannot say whether or not any position was offered me."

CLARKE, IN TROUBLE OVER WOMAN; PUTS BLAME ON SIMMONS

HOUSTON, TEXAS, March 11. — (By The A. P.)—E. Y. Clarke, former imperial wizard pro tem of the Ku Klux Klan, was fined $5,000 in federal court here today for violation of the Mann Act. He was accused of transporting a woman from Houston to New Orleans in February, 1921, and entered a plea of guilty to the indictment.

Tegmeyer was introduced to show that Colonel William Joseph Simmons, organizer of the Klan, was indirectly the cause of Clarke's troubles, since he had gone to a disorderly house in Houston at Simmons' suggestion and there met the girl to whom he later sent money to go to New Orleans.

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples or is rough or dry. Nothing subdues fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.—Advertisement.

PREDICTS HUNDREDS OF COAL MINES ARE TO BE ELIMINATED

BELLAIRE, O., March 11. — (By The A. P.)—Prediction that hundreds of mines will close permanently in the union fields was made by President Frank Ledvinka of sub-district number five, district number six, United Mine Workers of America, in opening the annual sub-district convention today.

A chaotic condition exists in the industry, he said, because of an excessive number of mines and workers.

"We are assured," Mr. Ledvinka said, "that the railroads are equipped to furnish a return for a period of time of the ruinous out-throat competitive conditions of pre-war days."

"Hundreds of mines will close down permanently in the union fields, investments will be lost to operators and the opportunity to work lost to thousands of mine workers. With this outlook it would be folly to attempt to suppress the facts. Our duty is to exercise the necessary wisdom and caution by which we can hold our present day advantages."

"Mother, dear, I've come to tell the senate about daddy. I think he'd like me to. Don't worry. I'll be a good girl. Olivia Belle."

Congressman Says He Is Innocent Victim of a Terrible Mistake

WASHINGTON, March 11.—(By The A. P.)—Representative Harold Knutson of Minnesota made head of $5,000 today on serious charges entered against him by Virginia highway police. He was released from jail at Arlington, Virginia, where he had been held since his arrest last night.

Ball in the same amount was also furnished by Leroy M. Hull, 29, an employee of the department to labor, who was arrested with Representative Knutson. Police who made the arrests said they found the two men in a parked automobile.

The case will be heard March 15 continuing having been granted when the two were arraigned today and asked that they be permitted to employ counsel before pleading to the charges against them.

Prominent in House
Representative Knutson, who is serving his fourth term in the house, was Republican whip during the last session.

In a statement today, Mr. Knutson said in part:

"I am the innocent victim of a terrible mistake. The facts are these: 'On Sunday evening I left the Willard Hotel and met L. M. Hull, whom I had known quite well during 1917 and whom I had seen but once since he returned from France after the armistice. I invited him to take a drive and we drove over to Virginia in my car. 'Shortly after passing Arlington, Mr. Hull found it necessary to leave the car and I drove into the first side road where I stopped and as Mr. Hull stepped out of the car I turned out the lights. In a minute or so I got out and stood on the other side of the car. Suddenly I saw another car approaching. I hurriedly got in my own car and called to Hull to do likewise, which he did.

Deputies Arrive
"The on-coming car was brought to a stop beside my car. Two men, whom I later learned to be deputy sheriffs, jumped out. One, flashing a light into my car, demanded to know if I did not know it was against the law to park alongside the road. I replied that I did not but if it was a violation of the law I would move on.

"At this point the officer said we were under arrest. One of the officers got in my car and the other took Mr. Hull in his car. On the way to the county jail I had my first intimation of the heinous and revolting charge that was to be placed against us.

Suffers Mental Agony
"Upon my arrival at the jail, my request to call up my aged mother and some of my colleagues was denied and we were kept in a crowded cell for fifteen hours during every moment of which I suffered the most indescribable mental agony, but throughout the long night, though half dazed at the enormity of my situation, I was sustained by a consciousness of my complete innocence.

"I shall not rest until I receive a complete vindication and if there is still such a thing as justice in the world that vindication will be speedily forthcoming."

"Washington Wettest City in Country"

NEW YORK, March 11.—(By the A. P.)—Rear Admiral Charles P. Plunkett, commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard, declared today at the police trial of Deputy Inspector George R. Wakefield that prohibition was a failure. He characterized Washington as the wettest city in the United States.

Inspector Wakefield, who has charge of the district which includes the navy yard, is charged by Police Commissioner Enright with failure to enforce the Volstead Act.

Admiral Plunkett said he believed the police were doing everything in their power to clean up conditions. He testified to having sent twenty federal injunctions to postlock places asked for by the police, pigeon-holed by the federal authorities.

The witness testified that if "all the lawyers and all the judges in the country were to give up their entire time for a year and devote it to checking the sale of liquor, they would not make a dent in prohibition."

Plan Reception for Denby on Return Home

WASHINGTON, March 10.—(By The A. P.)—Edwin Denby surrendered his navy portfolio Monday but retained a connection with the naval establishment of which he has been the chief for three years. When he left the secretary's office yesterday, he was again Major Denby, fourth class, Marine Corps reserve, with a renewed pledge of loyalty to the flag on his lips.

"You see they cannot force me entirely out of the navy," Mr. Denby said smilingly. "I am still on the payroll. I draw $1 a month."

Departmental affairs were turned over to Acting Secretary Roosevelt, until Mr. Denby's successor is named. There was nothing to indicate that President Coolidge had as yet determined definitely upon a man for the post.

Reception Planned
The former secretary will leave for his home in Detroit Wednesday, returning to Washington about March 20. A home coming reception awaits him as evidence of the confidence of his fellow townsmen.

Mr. Denby began his last day in the office with flags draped about the big room, his desk laden with flowers wishing him bon voyage on behalf of "comrades of the navy and marine corps on duty in Washington" and with high officers of the department gathered to witness his re-commissioning in the marine corps reserve. He held the rank of major when selected by President Harding to fill the cabinet post.

Mr. Denby called on President Coolidge during the day to take his official leave.

Senator Walsh said McLean would be called before the committee tomorrow. All of the employees of the Post have been examined, but the committee still is questioning E. W. Smithers, E. W. Starling and H. W. McKenna, of the White House.

The committee called first John Major, E. B. McLean's confidential agent in Washington, and Senator Walsh, however, Montana, questioned him. He told of a trip taken by McLean and himself to Atlantic City "about the middle of December," where McLean talked to former Secretary Fall.

The McLean party, which included W. O. Duckstein, the publisher's private secretary, remained at the beach city two hours, but Major said he did not know what his employer and Fall talked about. He had "naturally inferred" from the newspaper accounts of Fall's later statement to the committee, he said, that McLean and Fall had discussed the matter.

"I knew McLean did not go to Atlantic City to say howdy-do to Mr. Fall," Senator Bursum, Republican, New Mexico, read from a transcript of Major's testimony on March 8, in which the witness told of McLean's conference at Atlantic City. Major had said, Senator Bursum insisted, that he knew Fall and McLean discussed the matter of Fall's story that McLean had loaned him $10,000.

"I inferred that was the purpose of the visit," Major insisted, "because the papers came out with the story, I'm merely inferring that."

Major went on to explain several of his inferences under questioning. By his message to McLean, "parties working on Walsh," Major said he meant simply that there were people inquiring of Walsh as to whether McLean was to be called to testify.

He testified that the telegram saying he was busy with "Curtis, Underwood and Zevy" was trying to avoid the calling of McLean from Palm Beach to testify. J. W. Zevy, personal counsel to Harry F. Sinclair, he said, told him that all efforts to keep Harry Payne Whitney off the stand had failed. He then went to Zevy to enter his bid for a similar end for McLean, but was told that it was useless.

Major said he thought "that man" mentioned in other telegrams to McLean referred to General M. B. Burroughs of New York. The message said "that man" was to see the party today, and Major testified "the party" probably was Senator Walsh.

With Bursum, the witness went on, "he had discussed Mr. McLean, and discussed you, sir. He spoke highly of you."

"That's not surprising," Senator Walsh put in. "He's a friend of mine." "He said it was a damned shame," continued Major, "that Ned McLean was mixed up in this thing for nothing."

"What was he (Bursum) going to see me about?" Senator Walsh asked. "Do you know whether he did see me or not?"

"I don't think he did," Major replied. Major was asked what was meant by a telegram from McLean asking that he find out in "careful manner" about a matter I will talk to you about over the telephone later.

"That was an uncompleted message," the witness said. "I didn't talk to him."

Senator Walsh read a code message to Major from McLean on the same day. Which said:

LAST RITES FOR PAT MORAN

FITCHBURG, Mass., March 11.—The funeral of Patrick Moran, manager of the Cincinnati National League baseball club, was held today in the Sacred Heart church, with a solemn high mass of requiem.

Burial was in St. Bernard's cemetery, Ivy Wingo, George Harper, members of the Cincinnati club, who accompanied the body to this city from Orlando, Fla., were honorary pallbearers.

Among the other baseball men present were President John A. Regal of the National League, Treasurer Louis Widdie of the Cincinnati club, Thomas Connolly, American League umpire, and Secretary Fred Mitchell of the Boston Braves.

Floral tributes were received from all the major league clubs and from many individuals in the baseball world.

Chance Unable To Take Charge of Team

CHICAGO, March 11.—Lack of definite information on the condition of Manager Frank Chance, under treatment at California health resort, is handicapping Acting Manager Johnny Evers and Eddie Walsh at the Chicago American camp at Winter Haven, Florida.

Reports indicate Chance's condition will not permit him to take charge of the team March 15, as planned.

The acting managers are in controversy with Bill Falk, former University of Texas pitcher, who has refused to cooperate in efforts to make him a major league pitcher. Falk declined yesterday to do mound duty and indulged in baiting practice instead of warming up and pitching as ordered. Evers and Walsh are virtually without authority to handle the situation and there is a sentiment that one or both should be given definite jurisdiction in such matters, pending Manager Chance's arrival.

Manager Killefer of the Chicago National camp, California, said Falk is "picking off" the rough edges that cropped out during the weekend exhibition games at Los Angeles. The club pilot is particularly phased with the showing by Otto Vogel at short. Bob Barrett in hitting and fielding, and Billy's performance at the mound.

Vic Kenna, former University of Maryland star, has recovered from a sore arm and is back in the pitching sessions.

WITH THE SICK

Green County of 1293 Findlay street is ill with blood poisoning, stilling from an abscess on his jaw.

Mrs. Noah Shoveraker of Grand view avenue is ill with the grip.

To Clamp Down Youngstown Lid

YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 11.—(By the Associated Press.) City officials today said their discussions of the Sunday closing situation indicate that a decision of common pleas court yesterday leaves them no alternative but to try to close up all business activities by noon Sunday, including street cars, hotels and newspapers.

The decision held that the mayor is bound to enforce all laws to the letter. The administration believes that the present law of closing some businesses and letting others operate, can not be continued under this condition.

Mrs. Charles Schell and Law Director Clyde Osborne are still canvassing the situation, they said today, and had agreed at a definite decision but are not to the conclusion that they have been attempting to reach.

Meanwhile, independent gasoline dealers who brought the court action resulting in yesterday's decision, are withholding portion of business against children of Sunday law, which they obtained in purchases made last Sunday.

Mrs. Stephenson Ill

Friends of Mrs. W. P. Stephenson, wife of the judge of Cass County, will regret to learn that she is quite ill at her home in West Union. It was learned today that Mrs. Stephenson was taken sick several days ago but her condition was reported as improved this afternoon when Judge Stephenson stated in a telephone conversation with a court official that if she continues on the mend he will be in a position to come here to hold court next week.

One County Exempt

RICHMOND, VA., March 11.—(By the Associated Press.) Bedford is the only one of the 100 counties in Virginia exempted from the terms of the new prohibition law enacted by the general assembly shortly before its adjournment Saturday. And that, say officials, is "strange."

In the increased hit and in the measure as printed the statement appears "this act shall not apply to Bedford county."

Legislative officials assert that the word "act" is incorrect and that "section" was intended, which would exempt Bedford county only from the provision relating to shipment of articles to pharmacies. Discovery of the error has aroused argument over the constitutionality of the whole measure, with no settlement in sight until the courts have a chance to act.

Vicar Occupies Abandoned Saloon

LONDON, March 11.—(By the Associated Press.) The housing problem has been responsible for people establishing themselves in many queer dwellings, but probably the queerest is that of the Rev. George Porter, vicar of St. Christopher, Peckham, who occupies as a vicarage a former public house.

The "pub" which was called the "Buck," bears all the outward and visible signs of liquor, having still the labels of its late tenant advertising port, brandy, hatter and stout. There has been added the label "vicarage."

Stinnes Has Nervous Collapse

BERLIN, March 11.—(By the Associated Press.) Hugo Stinnes, the industrial magnate, who is confined to his bed by a nervous condition brought on by overwork, will be able to travel within a few days, it is announced by his physicians, and will probably depart for a health resort outside of Germany.

Just where he will go for a rest has not been decided upon, but his family physicians will urge him to refrain from participation in any business affairs for the next fortnight.

POLITICS

T. R. Meigert, in Sunday's Enquirer, of local interest said:

But Portsmouth's troubles are not all centered in Ku Klux Klanism. card men nor volunteer moral censors. There is suspicion of sedition round about and questions are asked as to occurrences. Pointing to Mrs. Inez Browning, Deputy Auditor of Portsmouth, the old gang is asking: "How come?" Mrs. Browning is one of the candidates for alternative for Senator Brian W. Johnson in the Sixth Congressional District, notwithstanding that her chief is J. Earl Chandler, who stoutly insists he is a Coolidge man.

That being true, the gang asks him to make his office his regular and all explanations that one cannot do anything with a woman have been outlawed as not to the point. Chandler has it in his honor to become County Treasurer and then to struggle on toward the heights of political fame. Certain persons think he's working a game in having his assistant play the Johnson card.

Recent inquiries into activities of the "reel" prohibition agents disclose the fact that there have been two distinct types in the prohibition business, the commercialized kind and the kind who seem to find a sort of morbid delight in bringing troubles upon their neighbors.

The Anti-Saloon League plan for a spy in every street to send in reports seems to have fallen down. The neighbors who have home-made wine have looked after that. There still is the type, however, which sits in on the activities of enforcement officers and cannot be persuaded that regular bonded officers can enforce the law.

Portsmouth has one such in the person of a prominent and wealthy business man, Mayor Ralph Edwards. He has told the reporters that he has done everything but throw him out of headquarters and still he will not go.

On First Lap

THE PAS, Man, March 11.—Ten teams, the pick of the dog world, left the harbor shortly after 11 o'clock today on the first lap of the annual 25-mile nonstop dog derby.

With one exception the teams were off to a splendid start. The exception was provided by the entry of R. L. Baker, of St. Paul, one of whose huskies dropped shortly after crossing the harbor. Baker cut the disabled dog loose from the rest of the team and carried him on his sleds to the finish.

One mile out "Shorty" Huskie was leading with Bill Canyon second.

Coughing—a futile waste of strength—

MEDICAL authorities agree that coughing aggravates the irritation in throat and lungs that is causing the cough and therefore only makes you cough the more. Control the cough and the irritation is soon relieved.

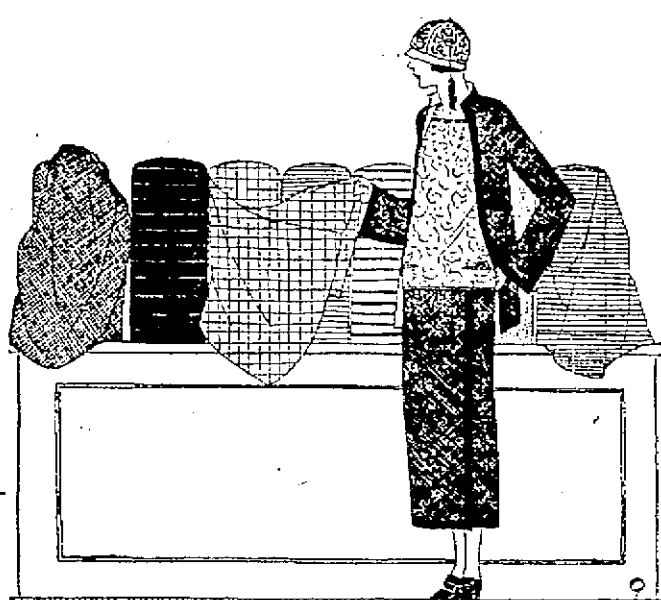

Dr. King's New Discovery stops coughing quickly by gently stimulating the mucous membranes to throw off clogging secretions. Harmlessly and effectively the violent throat and chest spasms are quieted, and the inflammation then quickly clears away. It has an agreeable taste. All druggists.

SEAT SALE FOR NEXT FIGHT CARD OPENS WEDNESDAY

40 Rounds of Boxing On Card

From 7 o'clock on Wednesday evening Bill Harris expects to be about the busiest man in town for that is when he will place the reserved seats on sale for the monthly boxing show of the River City Athletic Club. There are already almost 100 reservations made at the Smoke House and from present indications there will be some crowd at the Winter Garden next Monday evening, when 40 rounds of action will be dished up to the fight fans.

The evening's entertainment will be featured by a double main-go in which Bill's two star performers, Frankie Susnell and Eddie Grant, will be stacked against Benny Levy, of St. Louis, and Gene LaRue, flyweight champion of Canada. From the records of the two visiting boxers no one will accuse Bill of picking any set-ups for his boxers.

Benny Levy has won over boys like Joe Pagani, Tommy Ryan, Chalky Wilmer and other top-notch bantams. He also fought Champion Joe Lynch last fall and lost the decision after carrying the fight to the champion for the early part of the match. Levy looks enough like Benny Leonard to be his brother. He is a fast, clever boxer and he is fighting his third main-go in Louisville April 5, when he again meets Joe Pagani.

Gene LaRue is a French-Canadian, and the fans in Detroit think he can take Pancho Villa's crown any time the champion steps in the ring with him. Joe Sarao, a Detroit promoter, offered Villa a guarantee of $3,000 and a privilege of 60 per cent of the gross receipts if the champion would consent to meet LaRue, but Villa sidestepped. Gene is a former stable mate of Carl Tremaine, and holds wins over such boys as Johnny Bull, Chick Allman, Battling Chink and recently knocked out Willie Sullivan, of Cincinnati, in one round. He is credited with having more knockouts than any flyweight in the business. He is scheduled to give Eddie Grant a pretty strenuous evening. Portsmouth fans have always had a warm spot in their hearts for Andy Parker, who will meet Bill Bailey, of Middletown, in the semi-final. Bailey won over Parker in Dayton last week in one of the most furious bouts ever seen in the Gem City. Both of these boys are speedy, clean-hitting fighters, and are bound to make a hit with the local mit fans.

In addition to the above high-class bouts there will be two prelims that should bristle with action. Kid Lewis, of Portsmouth, is meeting Young Nip, of Grayson, in a little argument all their own. It is said that Nip's manager is wagering $100 on his entry and that friends of Lewis have covered the sale. Grayson boxing fans have been trying to produce a boxer to take Kid's scalp ever since he twice O.K.ed the village champion, Bone-Crusher Smith, last fall.

The curtain-raiser will probably be Young Brownie, with either Kid Hickman or Red Wine as his opponent.

Local Boys on Fight Card

Shifty Dando, Frankie Susnell and Zip Valentia, local boxers are working out every evening in Wilhelmette Hall, preparatory to their bouts in Chillicothe Thursday. Dando will meet Novicky, Susnell meets Soldier Mellow, of Columbus, and Zip goes against Frankie Wells. There will be quite a large local delegation to attend the bouts, which will be held at the Majestic theater.

McGraw Boosts Reds

NEW YORK, March 11.—Manager McGraw of the Giants is of the opinion that Cincinnati will offer his team the greatest opposition in the new for the National League pennant and that the Yankees should repeat in the American League without serious competition.

"Pittsburgh may be troublesome if Carson Higbee is able to play steadily," he said yesterday at Saratoga, Fla., the Giants' training camp. "I would not be surprised to see Boston finish in the first division ahead of either the Cardinals or Cubs. Brooklyn will need new infield strength to improve over last year."

McGraw announced that his contract had three years to run and that he might direct the destinies of his team even after that period.

The Yankee recruits bent New Orleans, 1-413 in their first exhibition game of the year at New Orleans yesterday.

No Dempsey-Wills Fight in 1924

BY HENRY L. FARRELL

NEW YORK, March 12 (United Press)—Unless political conditions as they pertain to and influence professional boxing, undergo a change in another year, Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills never will meet for the heavyweight championship.

It is known positively, regardless of much conversation to the contrary, that Dempsey and Wills cannot fight this year, and it is doubtful if a bout between them will be permitted next year.

If they have not met at the end of 1923 they never will meet, because Wills, old now and past his best days, will be too far gone then.

Admitted that there may be some reasons for the outcry that is raised by race alarmists every time a Dempsey-Wills bout is mentioned, even prospectively, it will be regretted if Wills has to hang up his gloves without getting a chance at the title.

Wills, just because he had a fair claim to a crack at the championship, should have been given an opportunity to at least find out that he wasn't good enough to be the champion.

Perhaps he would have won the title if he had been able to get a fight with Dempsey two or three years ago. He might have had a good chance then, because he was younger and better up on his game.

The chance that he has to beat Dempsey now is very small, and in another year it will be virtually no chance at all.

While it is generally admitted that Wills has a right to try for the championship, there isn't a single good reason to believe that he can beat Dempsey. On the contrary, there are many reasons.

Take Dempsey's word that he would knock Wills out in three rounds.

Hendricks Gets His Chance

CINCINNATI, March 11.—Jack Hendricks will be officially named manager of the Cincinnati Reds within a few days. Special dispatches from the training camp, President August Hermann, on his arrival at Orlando, last night, said Hendricks was the choice of the directors and himself and that a contract would be signed as soon as Treasurer L. C. Widgie arrives from Pittsburgh, Mass., where he went to attend the funeral of the late Manager Pat Moran.

Hendricks announced that Jake Daubert would be retained as field captain.

Visitors from the Miami camp at Sarasota are expected to witness the informal opening of the big league campaigns.

Babe Ruth, accompanied by Roy Shuckler, Joe Bush, Deacon Scott and Willie Schang, arrived at the Yankee training camp yesterday.

A high, cold wind put the Giants into heavy sweaters and confined their work-out to base running, bunting and other brisk exercises.

Dog Derby

THE P.A.S. Man, March 11.—Ten teams composed of the pick of the dog world, start on the 200-mile non-stop Dog Derby today with $5,000 in cash prizes and the Walter Gornier Grant trophy at stake.

The whirling dervishes in excellent condition and competitors who recently have gone over it are confident that the record of 24 hours and 52 minutes established in 1921, will be broken.

ILLINOI WINS

CRANA, Ills., March 11.—Illinois defeated Minnesota in a rough game here last night, 31 to 19. The victory which ends the season for both teams, the Illinois at least, second place in the conference basketball race, with a chance to tie for first if Wisconsin beats Chicago Saturday.

"Slim Stillwell, Illinois center, was the scoring star of the game without having made a field goal. Stillwell was fouled eight times, six made when he was near the basket, and he scored 31 points on free throws.

Free throws won for Illinois, Minnesota committed 16 fouls, and Illinois realized 17 points on free throws, the majority through Stillwell's efforts.

RUTH JOINS YANKS

Dunhill continued its record-breaking movement, making a further advance today. The feature of the industrial group, however, was the strength in Glen Aldan Coal which was traded in on an unusually large scale and advanced over a point. United Retail Candy was a weak feature, falling $\frac{1}{2}$ to a new low in recent trading. Durama Motors w

FAITH REWARDED

THE destitute tenement mother in New York City who told the landlady and later the judge she did not doubt that "God would take care of her overdue rent" was undoubtedly alone with her faith. The landlady was so shorn of faith that she haled the delinquent tenant before the courts and the judge was not quite persuaded. It was obvious from the tenor of the news dispatches of the incident that the reporters had more faith in the news possibilities of this display of faith than in the possibility of the paying off of this rent by divine providence.

It is not necessarily that people have lost all faith, but it is that humanity has never placed much confidence in the faith of others. Men and women in matters of faith as in other things vest more confidence in their own abilities than in those of others. There was a feeling more of pathos than of confidence provoked by the tenement woman's faith.

The judge, who refused to pass judgment on the case without deliberation and prolonged delay, admittedly did not act in faith in direct divine providence but in the confidence that the providence of society would raise the sorely needed rent. Whether the court was aware of it or not, by his actions he expressed belief in that most divine of providences—the gift to the world of a provident society. There were millions of Christian missionaries eager to pay the rent of the tenement mother by the providence of God.

JEST IN DEATH'S FACE

FOUR recently convicted murderers are reported to have entered the Sing Sing death house with jest and joke. That may have been mere bravado or it may have been of the spirit of courage that can draw mirth from imminence of death, or it may have been of the spirit that laughs when the cards fall against the player. Whatever it was, it was worthy of a better cause. The kind of man that can laugh or jest in such situation could make an inspiring showing if his play were in the right direction.

The man who can laugh in the face of approaching death is of the stuff that heroes may be made, if he is set on the upward path. Those convicted murderers might have won place in the record that is reserved for the truly heroic had they directed their efforts to attainment of citizenship's high ideals. As it now stands, the bravado or courage or spirit of the convicted men is wasted in demonstration against a doom they have brought upon themselves.

SNOW

A remarkable machine for removing snow from city streets is invented by Mrs. Slater of New York City. The snow is scooped up, dropped into a hopper and there melted by intense heat. The water flows out the side of the machine and down the sewer.

Such a device, perfected, would save millions of dollars for cities which now have to shovel snow into wagons and haul it to the outskirts of town. Observe that a woman is the inventor.

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, March 11—Over on dingy, "L" covered Second Avenue is a Hungarian cafe belt specializing in wieners, sautés, wieners, roasts and jazz orchestra. Jazz makes no progress here and the music is of a high order.

Many of the violinists could play in symphony orchestras or grace the concert stage, but they prefer to move from cafe to cafe or city to city. Their audiences are music lovers and when they play there is perfect quiet. Even the waiters move about on tiptoe.

There is one that is entered by a narrow entranceway leading to a rear room in back of a pool parlor. Flickering blobs of gas light illuminate the place. The walls are undecorated and the floor uncarpeted. The proprietor, with fierce black mustaches and wearing a sweater, greets you.

It has the atmosphere of the Apache resorts on the left bank of the Seine and you think of slitting throats and bludgeoned heads, until the orchestra plays. Then everybody stops eating and sits tight on the edge of rickety chairs.

If there is the clatter of a dish the leader will stop, scowl and perhaps walk out in a pet. He is the master of his bow. He has the heart of the Nomad and the gift of true artistry. One enthusiastic diner tossed him a twenty dollar bill, following a solo.

He picked it up, tossed it back and in broken English cried: "Bah, I care not for money!" Somehow, you believe him. The proprietor flutters about him much in the manner of an opera manager with his temperamental prima donna. He does not know at what moment he will decide to walk out.

On the wall was a placard announcing that the humble second violinist was to appear in a recital at Aeolian Hall in a few days. In the audience was a long, raven-haired man who was dragged to the piano. He played to thunderous applause—an artist. Even the church-like leader beamed his approval.

Homer Crox has departed for southern France, where he will remain a year to finish his second novel—following the success of his first, written anonymously. BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

Purpose

BY BERTON BRALEY
Be sure of what you want to do
Then go ahead and do it,
Hop to it!

Be sure of what you want to win
Then go ahead and win it,
Begin it,
This minute!

Be sure of what you want to get,
Then, with all energy, beset it,
Go get it!

Be sure of where you want to go,
And why it is you want to blow there,
Then go there!

Be sure of what you want to write
And just the way you would indite it,
Then write it!

This optimistic preachy stuff
Gats lots of poets lots of credit—
You said it!

BUT my whole purpose is Achieved—
You've read it!
And that is why, however much
You kid it,
I did it.
